SOFTWARE LICENSE AGREEMENT

1. License provision

The engineering office Waltemath and the reseller Plaspittec GmbH (hereinafter called 'producer') grants you a simple, non-transferable license for the use of the enclosed computer program (hereinafter called 'software') on investments which are held by you or which are under your supervision, according to the following conditions.

This license agreement allows the single user the use of the software on only one computer at one place to a given time.

2. Limitations

It is expressly prohibited to

- a. copy or use the software when it's not permitted by this license;
- b. spread, lease, loan, sell or sublicense the software and all other rights granted by this license without the prior written permission of the producer in whole or part spread, or to transfer it in any way to third parties;
- c. to change, remove or to blot out proprietary or copyright notices, labels or trademarks;
- d. change, translate, arrange or customize the software or to create derived works on the base of the software notwithstanding.

3. Copyright

The property right and copyright of the software and the accompanying material as well as all copies made remain with the manufacturer. Unlicensed copying of the software or non-observance of the above- mentioned limitations entails the automatic ending of the license agreement.

4. Warranty

The producer guarantees that the medium, on which the software is delivered, is free of material and production defects. The exclusive liability of the producer and your solely claims in the course of this warranty are that the producer is allowed to correct mistakes, to refund the license charge or to end this license agreement at discretion. A claim may only be made if the faulty data carrier (s) are returned within 90 days after the date of delivery. Except for the above-mentioned limited warranty the producer is not given any further warranty duty. No explicit, implicit or statutory guarantees or guarantees given in written notice or verbal messages are guaranteed. The producer refuses any further guarantee, including the customary guarantee or the suitability for a specific purpose. The producer does not guarantee that the software can be used continuously and error-free.

5. Disclaimer

Static and other software for technical applications are technical aids which are only meant for professional and competent users. They do not replace an expert verdict. Static and other software for technical applications are technical aids which can be used for the product construction, but they do not replace an independent examination regarding the claim, safety and fitness for purpose of products. Due to the variety of possible applications of this software it hasn't been tested in every situation it can be applied. The producer may not be held liable for the results which can be obtained by using this software. The users of the software are responsible for the monitoring, handling and control relating to this software. This responsibility includes the determination of the appropriate application for this software and the choice of the software and other programs to obtain the intended results. The users of this software are also responsible for the judgement of the adequacy of independent arrangements to test the reliability and accuracy of all results obtained from this software, including all data which has been developed with the help of this software.

6. Limitation of liability

The producer may not be held liable for losses or damages of any kind, including the loss of data, lost profit, insurance costs or other special damages, including consequential damages and indirect damages which result from the software's use or the impossibility of use, despite the respective cause and the legal reason asserted for the liability. This restriction also applies when the producer has been informed about the risk of such loss or damage before.

The producer accepts no liability for loss or theft of the software. In particular, the producer is not obliged to replace lost or stolen software. You are solely responsible for a protection of the software against loss or theft and for a sufficient protection of your investments through an insurance or similar.

7. General

- a. This license ends without prior notice or measures of the producer when the licensee goes bankrupt, compounds with his creditors or goes into liquidation.
- b. For this agreement the German right applies, excluding the UN- conventions of 1980 regarding trade purchase contracts. Place of jurisdiction is Berlin. This agreement represents the whole treaty between the parties and replaces all other communications or advertising claims regarding the software.
- c. Should a condition or more conditions of this agreement be ineffective the remaining conditions are not thereby affected. The ineffective condition (s) is to be replaced by an effective one which is most closely to the economic purpose of the ineffective one.
